To whom it may concern,

speaking from my personal experience: if you want to sell your real estate without any hassle, look no further than Mr. Kürner at Fischer-Immobilien. You get full service, are kept informed at all times and don't have to keep track of everything and anything yourself, because it's done for you. On the other hand, you won't discover them to be too hasty - any decisions will still be yours. Even if - as in my case - I had to be abroad on business for most of the time between putting the property on the market and exchanging contracts.

When the sale of our house finally went through in 2009 I was happy that I had found Mr. Kürner on my third estate-agents-try. Thorough, friendly, unobtrusive and energetic at the same time he made a daunting task turn out a pleasant experience.

Best of luck with your sale!

kind regards
